2013 Butler Football Notes

PFL Champ Bulldogs Boast 17 Returning Starters

Quarterback Matt Lancaster was named the Most Outstanding Offensive Player in the Pioneer Football League after leading the Bulldogs to a share of the 2012 league championship.

RETURNING CHAMPS: The Bulldogs head into the 2013 season with a roster that boasts experience and depth. Head coach Jeff Voris, who's led Butler to 28 wins over the past four seasons, can call on 42 returning letterwinners, including 17 returning starters, from last year's squad, which picked up a share of its second Pioneer Football League title in four years. Nine of those returning starters are on offense, including quarterback Matt Lancaster, who was named the Most Outstanding Offensive Player in the PFL last season, running back Trae Heeter, who was named Butler's Offensive MVP, and wide receiver Brendon Shannon, who led the team in both receptions and receiving yards. Voris further has four of five offensive line starters returning, including honorable mention All-PFL performers Charles Perrecone and David Tiwari. Among the eight returning defensive starters are Butler Defensive Lineman of the Year Jeremy Stephens, and defensive backs Sean Grady and Jayme Szafranski. Grady ranked second and Szafranski third on the team in tackles last year. Voris also returns his top placekicker (Jon Treloar) and top punter (Brian Akialis) from a year ago.

Butler returnees accounted for 277 of the Bulldogs' 302 points in 2012.

TITLE RUN: Butler finished the 2012 season in a three-way tie with Drake and San Diego for first place in the Pioneer Football League with a 7-1 record. It was Butler's second PFL championship in four seasons and third overall. The Bulldogs compiled a seven-game winning streak during the championship run and finished the year with an 8-3 overall record. The seven-game winning streak was the longest by any team in the PFL in 2012.

ALL-LEAGUE: The Bulldogs had 12 players named to the 2012 All-Pioneer Football League Team, and ten of those players are back this season. The returnees include four first team picks, quarterback Matt Lancaster, running back Trae Heeter, defensive lineman Jeremy Stephens and defensive back Sean Grady. Wide receiver Brendan Shannon was tabbed second team All-PFL, while defensive back Jayme Szafranski, offensive linemen Charles Perrecone and David Tiwari and defensive linemen Kyle Annis and Glen Somers earned honorable mention. Butler's other All-League players were linebacker Jordan Ridley, who earned first team honors for the third consecutive year, and offensive lineman Matt Storey, who also earned first team honors. Lancaster earned the league's top offensive individual award, while Annis was tabbed as the PFL's Freshman Defensive Lineman of the Year. Butler head coach Jeff Voris was selected as the PFL Coach of the Year.

STUNNING DEBUT: Quarterback Matt Lancaster, who transferred to Butler from Illinois State, made the most of his initial season as the Bulldogs' starter. The Butler signal caller completed 217 of 361 passes for 2,708 yards and 21 touchdowns. He compiled the second-highest single season total for passing yards in Butler football history, and his 21 touchdown throws tied the third-highest single season total ever for the Bulldogs! The West Lafayette, Ind., native became just the fourth quarterback in Butler football history to throw at least 20 touchdown passes in a season. Lancaster further led all Pioneer Football League quarterbacks in rushing with 408 yards on 111 carries.

Matt Lancaster ranked second in the PFL in total offense (3,116) in 2012.

RUSH HOUR: Running Back Trae Heeter became the first Butler player in more than a decade and just the fourth Butler player ever to lead the Pioneer Football League in rushing in 2012. Heeter gained 1,103 yards on 166 attempts in 10 games to pace the 10-team

Running back Trae Heeter led the Pioneer Football League in rushing last season.

2013 Butler Football Notes

Defensive back Jayme Szafranski was named second team Academic All-America last year.

ACADEMIC AWARD: Defensive back Jayme Szafranski became the fifth Butler player all-time to be named an Academic All-American in 2012. A finance major and honor student from Barrington, Ill., Szafranski was chosen to the second team of the 2012 Capital One Academic All-America Division I Football Team. The Bulldogs' third-leading tackler last season, Szafranski became Butler's first football Academic All-American since 2009, when defensive end Grant Hunter earned the national honor. He's Butler's fourth defensive player to be named to the Academic All-America team and the first defensive back.

BULLDOG BITS:

- Sean Grady ranked third among defensive backs in the PFL in tackles in 2012 with 84 total stops. He's Butler's top returning tackler in 2013.

- Wide receiver Brendan Shannon led the Bulldogs with 62 receptions for 864 yards and eight touchdowns in 2012. He posted the seventh-highest single season total for catches in school history and the eighth-highest season total for receiving yards.

- Running back Rico Watson was named Butler's Newcomer of the Year last season. He led the team in kickoff return yards (467) and finished fourth on the team in rushing yards (118), while playing in all 11 games.

conference. He rushed for more than 100 yards in five different games, including two contests with over 200 yards, and he had a league-high 10 rushing touchdowns. Other Butler players to lead the PFL in rushing were All-American Arnold Mickens (1994 & 1995) and Naim Sanders (1996 & 1998), who each topped the league twice, and Richard Johnson (1993), who led the PFL once.

Trae Heeter had Butler's 11th-highest single season rushing total in 2012.

ATTACKMODE: Defensive lineman Jeremy Stephens made the switch from tackle to end in 2012 and emerged as one of the top pass rushers in the Pioneer Football League. Stephens led the Bulldogs and ranked second in the PFL in tackles for loss with 14, and he finished third in the conference in quarterback sacks with 8.5. A former Lawrence Central High School player, Stephens sat out the 2010 season after transferring to Butler from Thomas More. He started all 11 games in 2011 and finished fifth on the team in tackles (54). He was in the starting lineup in all 11 games again last season, finishing fourth on the team in tackles (71). In his two seasons with the Bulldogs, Stephens has racked up 21.5 tackles for loss and 11.5 quarterback sacks.

Defensive back Sean Grady earned first team All-PFL honors after leading the Bulldogs in solo tackles in 2012.

- Placekicker Jon Treloar tied Butler's single game record with eight successful PAT kicks against Valparaiso last season.

- Butler head coach Jeff Voris has been named PFL Coach of the Year twice in the past four seasons.

Defensive end Jeremy Stephens emerged as one of the top defensive linemen in the Pioneer Football League in 2012. He was named Butler's Defensive Lineman of the Year.

Head Coach Jeff Voris

Jeff Voris is entering his eighth season as Butler's head coach and for the second time in four years, he's coming off a championship campaign. He guided the Bulldogs to an 8-3 record, including a seven-game winning streak, and a share of the Pioneer Football League crown in 2012. It was Butler's third title as a Division I football program, and it came in a year when the Bulldogs were picked seventh in the PFL's preseason poll.

Voris, who stands fourth on Butler's all-time list for coaching victories (41), is no stranger to success. He owns Butler's single season record for victories, and he's the only coach in school history to lead the Bulldogs to a postseason victory! Both of those accomplishments came in 2009, when he directed the most successful football season in school history! Voris, who improved the Bulldogs' win total in each of his first four seasons, took the 2009 Butler team, picked fifth in the Pioneer Football League preseason poll, and guided it to an 11-1 campaign, a tie for the PFL championship and Butler's first-ever post-season victory. The 11 wins set a Butler single season record and tied the PFL single season mark, and the league title was Butler's first since 1994. Butler also tied the existing PFL record for league wins (7), while setting a record for home wins (7) and completing an unbeaten Butler Bowl slate. The Bulldogs picked up the post-season win with a 28-23 victory over Central Connecticut State in the 2009 Gridiron Classic, a post-season game matching the champions of the PFL and the Northeast Conference. Voris guided the Bulldogs to nine straight wins to start the season, matching the Butler record for consecutive victories and making the 2009 Bulldogs just the third football squad in school history to own a 9-0 record. Included in that opening stretch was a 23-14 victory over Valparaiso in the annual Hoosier Helmet Trophy game. Appropriately, Voris was named the PFL Coach of the Year.

The historic 2009 Butler campaign came one year after Voris guided the Bulldogs to a 6-5 record, the program's first winning season in more than a decade! The six wins were Butler's most since 1997 and the second-most since the Bulldogs moved to Division I in 1993. And Butler's four league wins tied the Bulldogs' highest PFL win total to that point! The successful campaign came just one year after Voris guided Butler to a 4-7 mark in just his second season at the helm. The four victories were the most by a Butler football team since 2002 and marked another step forward for the program. In 2006, his first season as Butler's head coach, Voris guided the Bulldogs to a 3-8 mark and a tie for fifth place in the PFL. His first victory at Butler snapped an 18-game losing streak by the Bulldogs, and the team's three total wins matched Butler's victory total for the previous three seasons combined.

A former record-setting quarterback at DePauw University, Voris was named the 24th head football coach at Butler in December of 2005. He previously had served as head coach at Carroll (Wis.) College for five seasons, following assistant coaching stints at Edinboro, DePauw, Texas and Illinois.

Voris spent five seasons rebuilding the football program at Carroll. His first team in 2001 had just 51 players. In 2005 with the squad size up to 111 players, he guided the Pioneers to a 6-4 record and a third place finish in the Midwest Conference. It was Carroll's first winning season since 1996, and the Pioneers' six league wins tied the school record for most MWC wins.

During his five campaigns at Carroll, Voris coached one second team All-American, one honorable mention All-American, 11 first team all-conference players and 30 academic all-conference performers. He coached an all-conference quarterback in four of his five seasons. Carroll teams broke 10 school records for offense and special teams during his tenure, and his 2005 squad ranked fourth in the NCAA Division III in punt return average.

Voris took the Carroll head coaching position after

Butler Bowl

The Butler Bowl, home to Butler football, received a major face-lift for the 2010 season. Located on the northeast side of Butler's campus just east of storied Hinkle Fieldhouse, the Butler Bowl project took a major step forward with the addition of new bleacher and chairback seats on the west side, visitor's seating on the east side and a new brick press box stretching between the 30-yard lines. The new seats boosted the stadium capacity to 5,647, and the new press box added main level areas for media, radio, coaches and boosters as well as an upper level video area and observation deck.

The facelift continued in 2011 with the addition of lights to the Butler Bowl, allowing the Bulldogs to play night games on campus for the first time.

The renovation of the Butler Bowl, part of a plan to build new student housing along the east side of the stadium, began during the summer of 2005 with the removal of the Hilton U. Brown Theatre, located in the south end zone, and the demolition of the east stands. A new field turf surface replaced the former grass field and a new scoreboard was added to the south end zone. The field itself was raised by nearly eight feet and moved slightly to the south.

The original Butler Bowl was designed as part of a massive project developed to give Butler University one of the finest athletic plants in the nation. Construction on the Bowl was completed in time for the start of the 1928 football season, and Butler inaugurated the stadium by defeating Franklin, 55-0.

The Bowl opened with seating for 36,000 spectators. The first major change to the Bowl came in 1955, when the Hilton U. Brown Theatre was constructed in the south end zone. The huge outdoor theater replaced 16,000 seats and gave Butler one of the premier open-air stage facilities in the Midwest. For years, the Hilton U. Brown Theatre served as the summer home for Starlight Musicals, which brought the best in off-Broadway performances to Indianapolis.

Bulldogs Tabbed Second in PFL

The 2013 Pioneer Football League race could be one of the best ever, according to the preseason poll of league coaches. Four different teams received first place votes in the poll and the top four teams were separated by just 12 points. San Diego picked up five first place votes and edged Butler by a single point to claim the top spot in the poll. The Bulldogs, who shared last year's title with San Diego and Drake, received four first place votes and finished just ahead of Jacksonville and Drake, tied for third in the poll. Dayton was picked fifth, followed by Marist, Morehead State, Campbell, Davidson and Valparaiso. Newcomers Mercer and Stetson were picked 11th and 12th, respectively.

Butler Notebook

2013 Captains: Four seniors have been selected as captains of the 2013 Butler football team by a vote of their teammates. Named to the leadership roles for the Bulldogs this season were defensive lineman Jeremy Stephens, defensive back Sean Grady, running back Trae Heeter and quarterback Matt Lancaster. All four players were key contributors to Butler's championship run in 2012, and each earned first team All-PFL recognition a year ago.

Homework: The Bulldogs recorded their second unbeaten home record in four years with a 5-0 mark in the Butler Bowl in 2012. That effort followed a school-record 7-0 home ledger in 2009, Butler's first unbeaten home record as a Division I program. Butler is 24-15 at home in six seasons under head coach Jeff Voris. Butler's all-time record in the Butler Bowl is 266-145-11.

Preseason All-PFL: The Bulldogs had six players named to the Preseason All-Pioneer Football League Team. Chosen on offense were quarterback Matt Lancaster, running back Trae Heeter, wide receiver Brendan Shannon and offensive lineman David Tiwari. Picked to the All-PFL defensive squad were lineman Jeremy Stephens and defensive back Sean Grady. Butler and Jacksonville each had six players selected to the Preseason All-PFL Team to pace the circuit.

Automatic Bid: Beginning this year, the PFL regular-season champion will receive an automatic bid to the NCAA Division I Football Championship. The national championship will expand to 24 teams this season, with 11 automatic bids and 13 at-large berths.

The 2013 season marks the 21st year for the Pioneer Football League – the nation's only non-scholarship, football-only NCAA Football Championship Subdivision conference.

The PFL is one of only two conferences that sponsor football as its only sport (the Missouri Valley Football Conference being the other). However, the PFL is a truly national conference with members on each coast and throughout the nation's heartland. The league still retains four of its charter members – Butler University, the University of Dayton, Drake University and Valparaiso University, plus the University of San Diego (joining in 1992) – which were joined in 2001 by Davidson College, Jacksonville University and Morehead State University. Campbell University joined the PFL in 2008, its first season of intercollegiate football. Marist College, which joined for the 2009 season, further extended the league's footprint into the northeast.

In January 1991 the NCAA passed legislation to require Division I institutions to sponsor all intercollegiate sports at the Division I level. The five charter members (Evansville the fifth before dropping football in 1997), each dedicated to the enhancement and sound management of intercollegiate football as an integral part of the student-athletes' collegiate experience, joined together to form the Pioneer Football League. From the league's inception it has been a proponent of the creation of a non-scholarship football classification within Division I and adopted the moniker of Pioneer based on the intent to become the first league in that new division. The PFL's original membership was comprised of NCAA Division I universities that previously sponsored intercollegiate football at other levels.

In recent years the league has attracted those institutions committed to the principles of the PFL model when beginning their football program, including Jacksonville which started its program in the non-scholarship mold in 1998 and Campbell which did so in 2008. In 2013, the league expanded its footprint in the Southeast when Mercer University and Stetson University – which each restarted long dormant programs – join the league.

The PFL began play in 1993 with Dayton winning the league's first crown. The league spent its first season in 1993 under the administrative guidance of the Midwestern Collegiate Conference and the office moved to St. Louis in 1994 when current commissioner Patty Viverito was named the PFL commissioner, a leadership position she continues to fill.

Butler University

The five faculty and 113 students present when Butler University opened in 1855 laid a solid foundation for 157 years of creative change and progress. Today's more than 4,000 students continue to look ahead while treasuring the traditions unique to Butler.

The young school, originally named North Western Christian University, was unusually innovative. It was the first in Indiana, and only the third in the nation, to admit women on an equal basis with men. With the appointment in 1858 of Catherine Merrill as Demia Butler Professor of English, the institution became the second in the country to appoint a woman faculty member, the first to establish an endowed chair specifically for a female professor and the first to establish a professorship in English literature. The school was also the first in Indiana to allow its students, with parental consent, to choose subjects under a new "elective" system.

As Indianapolis grew, the city's commercial district began to penetrate the heavily-wooded campus at what is now the corner of Thirteenth Street and College Avenue. In 1873, the board of directors decided to sell the downtown campus and accept a gift of 25 acres in Irvington, then a suburb east of Indianapolis. In 1877, North Western Christian University became Butler University, taking the name of its founder, Indianapolis attorney Ovid Butler.

Butler moved again 50 years later, as the "Circle City" continued to grow. In 1928, classes were held for the first time in Jordan Hall, an imposing new Gothic structure erected on the beautiful Fairview Park Site, a wooded tract north of the city on the White River and the Inland Waterway Canal.

Today's students come from nearly every state in the nation and from many foreign countries to enroll in degree programs in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, or in one of four professional colleges--Business Administration, Education, Fine Arts or Pharmacy and Health Sciences. Butler is one of only 21 private schools in the country offering a pharmacy program.

True to the vision of its founders, the University continues to offer an array of professional and pre-professional programs within the context of a strong commitment to the traditional arts and sciences and to the values of liberal education. Butler continues to welcome highly motivated, intellectually curious men and women, and to prepare them for lives of professional and community service and creative, ethical action. Butler is one of the top 20 U. S. colleges for producing business executives, is in the top 10% for preparing future Ph.D.s and is located in the #2 city for college graduates starting a career.
